

Multiple Choice (2 marks)

1. To prevent desiccation and injury, the embryos of terrestrial vertebrates are encased within a fluid secreted by the
 - (a) amnion
 - (b) chorion
 - (c) allantois
 - (d) yolk sac

True / False (8 marks)

Answer True or False and justify briefly.

1. True or False: The correct answer to 'The soils of which of the following biomes has the highest rate of leaching and cycling of nutrients?' is 'Tundra'.
2. True or False: The correct answer to 'The section of chromosome that serves as the site of attachment by the mitotic spindle during cell division is the' is 'chromatophore'.
3. True or False: The correct answer to 'Which of the following sources makes the greatest contribution to the dry mass of organic matter that comprises an oak tree?' is 'Water that is taken up by the roots and carbon dioxide from the air'.
4. True or False: The correct answer to 'Which of the following plant cells undergoes programmed cell death to become functional?' is 'Xylem vessel member'.

End of Paper