

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. According to Esman (1972), which publics are related to the organisation through shared industrial interests?
 - (a) Enabling
 - (b) Functional
 - (c) Normative
 - (d) Diffused
2. The focus on issues, the intended audience extending beyond shareholders and the voluntary nature of _____ distinguish it from _____.
 - (a) Financial accounting, Environmental management initiatives
 - (b) Financial accounting, Social accounting.
 - (c) Social accounting, Financial accounting.
 - (d) Annual report publication, Social accounting
3. To evaluate an organization's Strategic Business Units (SBU), the Boston Consulting Group developed a portfolio performance framework that characterizes some of the SBUs as:
 - (a) Question marks.
 - (b) Quick winners.
 - (c) Charging bulls.
 - (d) Cash outs.
4. According to Belbin (1981) an extroverted and enthusiastic person fits with what role?
 - (a) Co-ordinator
 - (b) Shaper
 - (c) Resource investigator
 - (d) Implementer
5. Where the winning bidder obtains an unprofitable contract that he/she is duty bound to deliver because their bid price was set so low, this is known as:
 - (a) Winner's curse.
 - (b) Winner's price.
 - (c) Winner's reward.
 - (d) Loss-leader pricing.

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: Distributors are responsible for distributing products and providing value through inventory, credit, and aftersales services.
7. True or False: Predatory pricing involves setting prices low to eliminate competition and can be associated with anti-competitive practices.
8. True or False: Fixed capital refers to costs that vary with the number of units produced or sold.
9. True or False: Teams typically encourage open and informal knowledge sharing among members to enhance collaboration.
10. True or False: Promotional pricing is the most suitable strategy for introducing a new and unique product to capture immediate market interest.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss how contemporary theories of mass communication view audiences as active receivers and analyze the implications of this perspective for media influence and consumer behavior.
12. Discuss the concept of rehumanizing the workplace, focusing on strategies like job enrichment and job enlargement, and analyze their impact on employee empowerment and productivity.

End of Paper