

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. The Theory of _____ posits that 3 three levels of moral reasoning exist which an individual can engage in to assess ethical issues, dependant on their cognitive capacity.
 - (a) Egoism
 - (b) Cognitive moral development
 - (c) Power distance
 - (d) Uncertainty avoidance
2. Which of the following motivators is the most basic need in Maslow's hierarchy?
 - (a) Safety
 - (b) Belonging
 - (c) Physiological
 - (d) Esteem
3. Many brands are deliberately imbued with human characteristics, to the point that they are identified as having particular personalities. This is referred to as:
 - (a) Branding pyramid.
 - (b) Brand value.
 - (c) Brand names.
 - (d) Brand personalities.
4. What is the term used to describe how consistent or stable the ratings generated by a scale are?
 - (a) Replication.
 - (b) Pre-code.
 - (c) Reliability.
 - (d) Convenience.
5. What is T-group training?
 - (a) A group whose aim is transformational change
 - (b) A group brought together to deliver training programmes
 - (c) Team training for the purposes of advancing technology
 - (d) Team building activities involving learning

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: Transfer pricing occurs in large organizations with significant internal transactions between different divisions, often internationally.
7. True or False: DMU refers to the decision-making unit, which is unrelated to organizational characteristics like size and location.
8. True or False: The main purpose of licensing public relations practitioners is to preserve the well-being of society.
9. True or False: The strengths and weaknesses of the organization are evaluated during the strategy step of the Chase Jones model of issues management.
10. True or False: A scenario in scenario planning refers to an unpredictable event that cannot be planned for.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the process by which an attitude is communicated and analyze how it transforms into an opinion within the context of business interactions.
12. Discuss the concept of affirmative action in organizations, focusing on its proactive nature in targeting under-represented groups and its impact on increasing diversity in senior management positions.

End of Paper