

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. The advanced directive where one specifies the types of medical intervention that are and are not desired is called a
  - (a) Living will
  - (b) DNH
  - (c) DNR
  - (d) Durable power of attorney
2. The term "work-family conflict" for middle-aged adults can occur when they must
  - (a) Care for an ailing parent while continuing to work
  - (b) Work a high stress job while their children are at home
  - (c) Pay for nursing home care by sacrificing their own care
  - (d) Serving as an executor of their parent's estate while still working full time
3. What is a virus pandemic?
  - (a) A sharp and rapid epidemic involving more than one country
  - (b) An outbreak which recurs again and again
  - (c) A rapid global outbreak starting from a single focus
  - (d) A characteristic of common cold virus and HIV
4. How is the parvovirus family targeted to reduce disease?
  - (a) Transfusion blood is screened
  - (b) Vaccine has been developed
  - (c) A range of new antivirals
  - (d) Social distancing
5. The most important goal of a behavioral intervention is:
  - (a) Change in behavior
  - (b) Comprehensive coverage
  - (c) Effective use of behavioral theory
  - (d) Sustained behavior change

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: Bunyaviruses are known to cause impaired renal function as a common symptom of infection.
7. True or False: A patient with a broken neck at the sixth cervical vertebra will be unable to breathe without life support.
8. True or False: The yearning and searching phase is usually the longest phase of grieving experienced by individuals.
9. True or False: Excess disability is characterized by symptoms that are always found only in the last stage of Alzheimer's disease.
10. True or False: Blood samples are not used to diagnose hepatitis B, as liver biopsies provide more accurate results.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the significance of the geometric structures of virus nucleocapsids, focusing on the differences between icosahedral and helical formations and their implications for viral function and classification.
12. Discuss the role of the vagus nerves in relation to the oesophagus as it passes through the diaphragm, highlighting their anatomical significance and functional implications.

End of Paper