

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. Homo erectus differed from Homo habilis in which way?
 - (a) Erectus fossils are found only in Africa.
 - (b) Erectus possessed a smaller brain.
 - (c) Erectus possessed a larger brain.
 - (d) Erectus was a relatively short-lived species.
2. What was a unifying element to the Chavin culture?
 - (a) artistic styles incorporating the same creatures
 - (b) woven textiles displaying common motifs
 - (c) worked metal objects
 - (d) all the above
3. A subsistence strategy and settlement pattern based on seasonality and planned acquisition of resources is known as:
 - (a) opportunistic foraging.
 - (b) logistical collecting.
 - (c) symbolic foraging.
 - (d) mobiliary collecting.
4. Australian and America megafauna were probably wiped out by:
 - (a) humans.
 - (b) environmental changes.
 - (c) both humans and environmental changes.
 - (d) humans who carried diseases over the land bridge.
5. Genetic evidence indicates that the modern Inuit are the descendants of which people?
 - (a) Paleo-Eskimos
 - (b) Dorset
 - (c) Thule
 - (d) Clovis

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: Trace element analysis can determine the wear patterns on tools used in ancient cultures.
7. True or False: The Adena culture was known for its sedentary lifestyle in the Southwest, focusing on farming and permanent communities.
8. True or False: During the North American Archaic period, there was a decreased reliance on farming among communities.
9. True or False: Aerial photography is an effective archaeological method for identifying large-scale land modifications.
10. True or False: Artifacts are made by humans, while ecofacts exhibit traces of human activity.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the idea that Homo erectus may have included several related but distinct species across different regions. What are the implications of this perspective on our understanding of human evolution?
12. Discuss the ethical challenges posed by the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act concerning archaeological research on ancient burial sites of indigenous ancestors.

End of Paper