

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. Gauthier claims that there is nothing for practical rationality to be besides:
 - (a) logical justification.
 - (b) epistemic justification.
 - (c) existential justification.
 - (d) theoretical justification.
 - (e) moral justification.
2. According to Ross, our prima facie duties:
 - (a) are only applicable to certain cultures.
 - (b) are determined by societal norms.
 - (c) are only valid if they align with personal beliefs.
 - (d) have no moral significance.
 - (e) can be altered over time.
3. Wolf claims that morality:
 - (a) is merely a cultural artifact.
 - (b) is not really relevant to our lives.
 - (c) provides a comprehensive guide to conduct.
 - (d) none of the above.
4. Nathanson supports which of the following kinds of retributivism?
 - (a) proportional
 - (b) equality
 - (c) retaliatory
 - (d) punitive
 - (e) compensatory
5. Which of the following fallacies happens when someone concludes that someone couldn't have done something good because he or she has negative qualities?
 - (a) Laudatory personality
 - (b) Red herring
 - (c) Reprehensible personality
 - (d) Circular reasoning
 - (e) Straw man fallacy

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: The natural law fallacy is a form of false cause, incorrectly attributing causation based on perceived natural order.
7. True or False: Claiming someone is a Communist simply because they admit to not being one illustrates the fallacy of denying the antecedent.
8. True or False: Singer argues that such corporations are primarily like politicians who accept bribes for personal gain.
9. True or False: According to Butler, justice is the only inherent right that individuals possess in a social contract.
10. True or False: The fallacy of appeal to popularity occurs when someone argues that an action is justified solely to gain social approval.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the concept of complex cause in philosophy, analyzing how attributing a simple cause to an event can lead to misunderstandings and oversimplifications of complex phenomena.
12. Critically analyze de Marneffe's perspective on drug policy, discussing the implications of legalizing the sale and manufacturing of drugs while making their use illegal.

End of Paper