

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. Which of the following might be considered part of the 'deepening and broadening' of security?
 - (a) The nexus between identity and security.
 - (b) War, the military, and the sovereign state.
 - (c) Environmental changes.
 - (d) All of these options.
2. Which of the following concepts does NOT form part of the technical discourse on cyber- security?
 - (a) Business networks
 - (b) Computer experts
 - (c) Anti-virus industry
 - (d) Computer networks
3. Who said "Globalization is not something we can hold off or turn off. It is the economic equivalent of a force of nature-like wind or water"?
 - (a) Ronald Reagan
 - (b) George Soros
 - (c) Bill Clinton
 - (d) George W. Bush
4. What is the referent object in contemporary cyber-security?
 - (a) Digitalised sensitive information
 - (b) Critical Information Infrastructures
 - (c) Government IT systems
 - (d) Telecommunication networks
5. Intergovernmental organizations SELDOM do which of the following?
 - (a) Provide strong enforcement
 - (b) Monitor parties
 - (c) Provide fora for discussion
 - (d) Reduce transaction costs for agreements

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: US foreign policy decision making is solely influenced by domestic political considerations and is unaffected by international factors.
7. True or False: Rosenau suggests that only the President's individual personality is crucial in explaining U.S. foreign policy behavior.
8. True or False: The Roosevelt Doctrine expanded upon the Monroe Doctrine by promoting military intervention in Latin America for political stability.
9. True or False: Exceptionalism leads both isolationist and internationalist strategies to advocate for the same approaches to world governance.
10. True or False: The costs of free trade tend to be concentrated among specific industries, while the benefits are widely dispersed across the economy.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Discuss the common criticisms of the human security concept, analyzing how these critiques reflect broader debates within political science regarding security and human rights.
12. Discuss the relationship between culture and social constructivism in political science, focusing on how culture shapes state perceptions of security and informs identity values and rules.

End of Paper