

Multiple Choice (10 marks)

1. The _____ is the least developed area of the brain at birth.
 - (a) occipital lobe
 - (b) temporal lobe
 - (c) parietal lobe
 - (d) cerebral cortex
 - (e) limbic system
2. When preparing a psychological testing report, a psychologist is ethically bound to include
 - (a) personal opinions and assumptions about the client
 - (b) the psychologist's preferred treatment plan for the client
 - (c) interpretations of the data and limiting circumstances involving the test administration
 - (d) only the results that support the initial hypothesis
 - (e) only positive results and findings from the test
3. Discuss the psychological impact of physical deviation in adolescents.
 - (a) Physical deviation has no impact on adolescents
 - (b) Physical deviation leads to superior athletic performance in adolescents
 - (c) Physical deviation causes a heightened sense of physical well-being in adolescents
 - (d) Physical deviation diminishes the importance of peer relationships in adolescents
 - (e) Physical deviation causes excitement in adolescents
4. One cause of the deinstitutionalization of many psychiatric patients in the mid-1900 s was
 - (a) a decrease in the number of psychiatric hospitals.
 - (b) an increase in the number of psychiatric patients.
 - (c) an increase in the number of trained mental health professionals.
 - (d) the development of new psychotherapy techniques.
 - (e) a decrease in government funding.
5. Discuss the effects of sleep deprivation.
 - (a) Decreased blood pressure, heightened sensory perception, faster reaction times

- (b) Strengthened cognitive abilities, longer lifespan, better pain tolerance
- (c) Enhanced problem-solving skills, increased emotional stability, improved coordination
- (d) Sharper focus, accelerated learning ability, increased creativity
- (e) Improved cardiovascular health, reduced inflammation, increased energy levels

True / False (10 marks)

Answer True or False

6. True or False: The three attributes of color are hue, brightness, and saturation, which collectively define the perception of color.
7. True or False: Statistical significance under low power provides reliable evidence for the existence of an effect in an experiment.
8. True or False: A psychometrician who varies their IQ score estimations accurately reflects the true ability of test subjects.
9. True or False: Individuals with moderate mental retardation usually display advanced cognitive abilities despite their condition.
10. True or False: Depth perception is the primary reason individuals can distinguish between flavors in beverages like Coke and Pepsi.

Long Form Response (20 marks)

Answer each question with a clear and complete explanation.

11. Critically analyze Sherman's and Key's (1932) study of the Hollow Children, discussing their findings and what they reveal about the impact of environmental factors on intellectual development.
12. Discuss the concept of generalization in classical conditioning, using Ivan Pavlov's experiments with dogs as an example. How does this phenomenon illustrate broader principles of learning?

End of Paper