

Multiple Choice (2 marks)

1. To prevent desiccation and injury, the embryos of terrestrial vertebrates are encased within a fluid-filled sac.
(a) amnion
(b) chorion
(c) allantois
(d) yolk sac

True / False (8 marks)

Answer True or False and justify briefly.

1. True or False: The correct answer to 'The soils of which of the following biomes has the highest nutrient content?'
2. True or False: The correct answer to 'The section of chromosome that serves as the site of attachment for spindle fibers is the centromere.'
3. True or False: The correct answer to 'Which of the following sources makes the greatest contribution to the greenhouse effect?'
4. True or False: The correct answer to 'Which of the following plant cells undergoes programmed cell death?'

End of Paper